

After working all day and answering phones the last thing I need is for my phone to ring off the hook. As far as I am concerned telemarketing phone calls are harassment. If they need to drive new business use the US postal service and send out mailings. Maybe the cost of stamps will go down too.

Sincerely,
Dawn M. Lain